

Get help with paying OPG deputy fees

You can use this form if you're a deputy appointed by the Court of Protection and the person you act on behalf of (your 'client') needs help with paying their Office of the Public Guardian (OPG) deputy fees.

You can apply for:

- an exemption – when your client does not have to pay deputy fees because they get certain means-tested benefits
- a remission – when your client gets a 50% reduction in deputy fees based on their financial circumstances.

To get this form in Welsh (Cymraeg), email OPG at: customerservices@publicguardian.gov.uk

Guidance

Fee	Full	Remission	Exemption
Deputy assessment	£100	£50	£0
General supervision	£320	£160	£0
Minimal supervision	£35	Not available	£0

Deputy fees

After you become a deputy, you need to pay OPG a deputy assessment fee and supervision fees (general or minimal) on behalf of your client.

You can pay the deputy fees either:

- directly from your client's funds
- from your own funds and get the money back from your client.

Deputy assessment fee

This is a one-off payment that covers the cost of assessing the level of supervision a deputy needs.

You need to pay this once OPG receives the Court of Protection order.

Supervision fees

These cover the cost of supervising deputies.

You need to pay them at the end of the financial year.

Deputy fee reductions

Your client may be entitled to a reduction in their deputy fees depending on their finances. You can apply for:

- an exemption – when your client pays no fees
- a remission – when your client pays 50% of the fees.

You can also apply for an extended award for up to three years.

Exemptions

Your client will qualify for an exemption of deputy fees if they:

- get certain means-tested benefits
- have not been awarded personal injury damages of more than £16,000 (which were ignored when your client was assessed for the benefit).

Qualifying benefits include:

- Guarantee Credit element of Pension Credit
- Income-based Employment and Support Allowance (ESA)
- Income-based Jobseeker's Allowance (JSA)
- Income Support
- Housing Benefit
- Council Tax Benefit (not the 25% single person reduction or any other exemptions)
- Local Housing Allowance
- Universal Credit
- a combination of Working Tax Credit and at least one of Child Tax Credit, Disability Element of Working Tax Credit, or Severe Disability Element of Working Tax Credit.

We'll write to let you know how long the exemption award lasts for. You will not need to apply again until the award ends.

Remissions

Your client may qualify for a remission of deputy fees (but not minimal supervision fees) if their gross annual income is less than £12,000.

Sources of income include:

- employment
- pension credit
- non-means-tested benefits and pensions, including Attendance Allowance (AA), Disability Living Allowance (DLA) and Personal Independence Payment (PIP)
- Universal Credit
- state and private pensions
- property rental income
- interest from capital investments and savings.

We'll write to let you know how long the remission award lasts for. You will not need to apply again until the award ends.

When we've already granted an extended award, the fee invoices issued to the deputy will include the remission, and we cannot make any further reductions.

Extended awards

An extended award allows for remission or exemption for up to 3 years. However, you need to be aware that:

- acceptance depends on whether your client's benefit or income are likely to be the same for the next 3 years
- OPG can review the award at any time
- you must tell OPG as soon as possible if your client's benefits or income changes.

Universal Credit

Your client may qualify for an exemption or a remission if they get Universal Credit.

Send a copy of your client's Universal Credit statement (together with a completed OPG120 form) to OPG at the address in the 'How to apply' section.

You can get this statement by signing in to your client's Universal Credit account at: www.gov.uk/sign-in-universal-credit.

Acceptable evidence

Any evidence you provide must:

- include your client's title, full name, address and postcode
- confirm the amount of benefit or income being paid
- relate to the period the fee covers.

Exemptions

You need to provide a letter or notification from the benefit provider confirming that your client has received a qualifying benefit during the period the fee covers.

Remissions

You need to provide proof of your client's income from:

- paid employment – the last three consecutive wage slips from current employment
- non-means-tested benefits and state, private or occupational pensions – an official letter or notice from the payer
- interest and dividends from capital, stocks, shares or bonds – statements, vouchers or tax certificates showing gross income
- self-employment – most recent tax return (self assessment) and most recent HMRC Self Assessment Tax Calculation.

We don't accept bank statements as proof of income.

If your client has no income, you need to provide a signed written statement to that effect with this application.

To get a remission for general supervision fees, you need to provide evidence showing income received in the 12 month period before the date of the invoice.
